Dear Lauren:

I am sorry. I lost your address and didn't know how to contact you when I finally was ready to send some information. I received a call from Winifred Sisco requesting information about my grandfather and got your address from her.

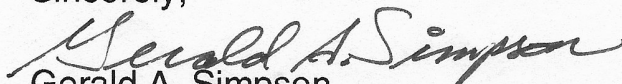

Enclosed is some information that I had copied from a Bible in my parents house (I had forgotten I had it). The bible was a fairly new one and therefore the information is not an old historical record from an old family bible. Some of the dates were different than dates my father had written in a Bible of mine that I have had since 1947, however I know that some of my father's dates were a little off.

I am also enclosing some copies of pictures of my grandfather and some of his children and grandchildren. Grandfather always went by the name Frank; I am not sure when I first learned that his name was Francis.

I am sending Winifred's name and address to my brother Frank and asking him to send information about his children and grandchildren to her; I assume that you are in touch with her and can get the information from Winifred.

Again, I apologize for the long delay.

Sincerely,

Gerald A. Simpson
